BIG MASONIC MEET HELD FEBRUARY 4

IN HONOR OF FOUR OLDEST LIVING FORMER HEADS

2 LODGES PARTICIPATE

Ceremonial in Afternoon to be Followed by Banquet at 6:30 in the First Christian Church.

A masonic gathering in honor of the four oldest living past master of Maryville lodge, No. 165, A. F. & A. M. and Nodaway lodge, No. 470, A. F. & A. M., is to be held Wednesday, February 4. This event had been planned for December 17, but was postponed on account of the fuel shortage at that time.

The four past masters in whose honor the affair is given are John G. Grem and Henry Hudson of Nodaway lodge, No. 470, and Nat Sisson and Ed McMillen of Maryville lodge No. 165. The lodge ceremony of conferring the third degree on a number of candidates will be held in the afternoon. The guests of honor will serve as honorary officers in the ceremonial, with Mr. Grems as honorary master; Mr. Sisson senior warden; Mr. Hudson junior warden and Mr. McMillen senior deacon. Acting officers will be selected from other past masters of the orders and other stations will be filled by officers of the lodges.

The committee in charge of arrangements is composed of G. B. Holmes, George B. Baker, Jonathan Stark, A. L. Nash and Walter S. Todd.

Invitations to the members of both lodges will be issued soon. The invitations will be in the nature of souvenirs containing some interesting items regarding the lodges. All records of the lodges were destroyed in the fire which burned the Michan building nearly two years ago.

As far as can be traced, there are only three living charter members of Nodaway lodge No. 470 which was organized in 1871. One of these, I. N. Wray of Pickering will be present. An invitation has been extended to the Grand Master of the state to attend this meeting.

The afternoon meeting opens at 2:30 o'clock in the I. O. O. F. hall. At 6:30 o'clock a banquet will be served at the First Christian church, the women of the church having charge of the service. The lodge meeting will be continued after the banquet.

Announcement

The Democrat-Forum will raise its subscription rates on and after February 1. This is necessary on account of the advancing cost of newsprint. Newsprint selling for $80 a ton a few months ago is now costing $170 to $200 a ton. The indications are that newsprint will continue to be very high all during the year, many of the paper mill owners saying that the price will advance instead of remaining the same or dropping.

The Daily Democrat-Forum has always had a low subscription rate. No other daily paper in the State of Missouri, outside of Maryville, has had such a low rate. Nearly every daily paper in this state is getting $4 a year by mail and many of them $5 a year by mail.

Renewals at the old rate will be accepted until Sunday.

The new rates are:

Daily by carrier, per week, 15 cents.

Daily by carrier, per month, if paid in advance, 50 cents.

Daily by carrier, a year, if paid in advance, $5.50.

Daily by mail anywhere in the State of Missouri, 35 cents a month, or $3.50 a year.

Daily outside of the State of Missouri, $4 a year.

The Weekly Democrat-Forum, $1.50 a year.

BOMB CASE STILL IN COURT TODAY

THE STATE RESTED ITS CASE AT 11O'CLOCK THIS MORNING

CIRCUMSTANCE EVIDENCE

It is not Expected the Case will go to the Jury Before Tomorrow Noon—Burns Case Next.

The state rested in the case of the State against D A Bledsoe on a charge of felonious wounding of his brother-in-law, Grant Richards, at 11 o'clock this morning and court took a recess until 1:30 this afternoon when the defense will present their evidence. It is said the defense will not go to the jury before noon Wednesday.

Much interest is being taken in the case and the court room has been well filled. Many people from the Guilford community where both Bledsoe and Richards live are in attendance.

D. D. Henderson and Judge J. O. Thompson of Guilford testified this morning that Bledsoe told Prosecuting Attorney McCaffrey in their presence (that he Bledsoe) would plead guilty to the charge if McCaffrey would not prosecute him but that he (Bledsoe) was not guilty. This interview took place at the Bledsoe home about a year ago. Another state witness was Frank D. Becker of the Hartley Detective agency who was called to Guilford the day of the explosion. He had the blood hounds with him at that time but the dogs did not pick up the trail.

Other evidence from Arthur Thompson and Carl Wray, bankers at Guilford, was presented by the state to show that Bledsoe was not in easy circumstances shortly before and at the time of the occurence. His debts were placed in the neighborhood of $17,000 by one of these bankers.

Other witnesses also testified to the peculiar tracks of a horse in the corn field of Richards and on the road. These witnesses stated these tracks were made by the Bledsoe horse.

A copy of the Daily Democrat-Forum of their issue of November 21 1918 was introduced as evidence by the state. In the explosion of the bomb in the shock of fodder, an issue of the Democrat-Forum was blown into small scraps. These scraps were picked up by the authorities at that time, and pasted so that it was determined that it was the issue of November 21 1918 either in the box or the high explosives. It was presented in evidence that Bledsoe was a subscriber of the paper.

Character witnesses were put on the stand by the defense at the opening of the court this afternoon. D. A. Bledsoe the defendant took the stand about two o'clock this afternoon.

The case of the State vs O. J. Burns charged with the robbery of the Jackson bank of Clearmont, is set for trial after the Bledsoe case. Many witnesses from Clearmont and Sedalia, the home of Burns, have been subpeoned.

ESSENTIALS FOR A WIDE-AWAKE C. OF C.

COLVIN B. BROWN SPEAKS OF PROGRAM OF ACTIVITIES.

100 ATTEND THE BANQUET

Attorney Ford Toastmaster.—Women of First Christian Church Serve Supper at Church.

About one hundred were presnt last night at the banquet given by the Chamber of Commerce at the First Christian church for Colvin B. Brown of Washington, D. C., chief of the extension department of the bureau of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. The purpose of the gathering was to hear an address given by Mr. Brown who told of the benfits of such an organization to a community and the advantages of co-operation between local and national organizations.

Attorney M. E. Ford acted as toastmaster. A musical program was given by the First Christian church orchestra. The principal speaker of the evening was Mr. Brown, who said in brief:

There are certain essential elements in the building and conduct of a successful Chamber of Commerce. The first of these is a clear understanding of the position it occupies in the community life. Those who support is solicited are entitled to know that it is not organized and conducted in the interest of a group of individuals, but that the yard stick by which all of its activities are to be secured is the yard stick of community good.

The second essential is a short, definite, practical program of activities. The people are not only entitled to know what the Chamber of Commerce is, but also what it purposes doing for the community.

The third essential is the election of committeemen with a view to their qualifications for carrying on the work entrusted to them.

The fourth essential is a budget based upon the work to be done, the revenue for which is obtained from dues paying members.

Where the public has a right conception of the functions of a Chamber of Commerce, is in agreement with its program of activities and has confidence in the official personnel there is little difficulty in obtaining the money necessary for carrying on the work.

Busy workshops, fertile fields and easy means of communication from place to place are some of the elements that make a nation great, and a nation is but the sum total of its community units. Therefore, many of our national problems could be solved if we could break them up into just as many little pieces as there are well organized community units, leaving it to each to do its bit. This is one of the reasons why we need well organized and well conducted Chambers of Commerce in every city and town in the country.

These Chambers of Commerce are based upon the fundamentally sound principle that more can be accomplished by working together toward a common purpose than by individual effort, and experience has taught that nothing can stop the driving power of a community that is well organized, knows what it wants and is in agreement as to how to get it.

Your community does not end with your municipal boundary lines. Your community extends onward and outward to cover your entire retail territory. It is the betterment of business and living conditions in that territory that we must have in mind. That is our to increase production in our retail charge. Now anything that can be done trade territory increases purchasing power and adds to the wealth of both merchant and producer. This is a national as well as a local service.

Industry, commerce and civics should all have a place on the organization program. Careful consideration should be given to the subject of industrial relations, to improved merchandising methods, the betterment of living conditions and to parks, playgrounds and schools. We want a contented working class, stores so excellent that they will draw all the trade in our tributary territory, and sample school facilities. And we want a city plan. Every city, no matter how small it is, should have a city plan, no matter how simple it may be. You should vision your city as you want it to be, and as you are determined to make it be, and with this in mind you will be constantly striving to make the dream come true. There should be committees for all of these.

If you can plan so as to increase production, improve transportation facilities, bring about better relations in industry, increase and improve retail trade, and better living, educational and recreational conditions, you will have done your part in the national program.

America today is the credit nation of the world. It is the only nation that can pay its trade balance in gold. It has a compact domestic market making for quantity production and can produce much of what the world needs at a lower cost than any other country and at the same time pay the highest wages. In 1914 we had but 15 ships of 1,000 tons or over in overseas trade. Today we have 24.8 per cent of the merchant tonnage of the world, and our shipyards are turning out ships faster than all other countries combined. We are today the richest and most influential nation in the world.

America helped win the world from ruthless conquest. It must now help save it from bankruptcy. I visited over eighty cities in 1919 and the more I see of organized communities the more faith I have in the unswerving common sense of the people and the more confidence I have that the spirit which helped win the war will help maintain peace at home and restore order, and ultimately prosperity, to a stricken world. We may each do our bit, working in our own communities with the tools at our command, always having in mind that whatever of betterment we bring to ourselves we bring to the nation of which we are a part; and remembering that the nations with whom we fought are still our allies and entitled to our friendship and our help.

CAN THE LIVING SPEAK WITH DEAD

SIR OLIVER LODGE TELLS OF MYSTIC DOCTRINE.

IS BRITISH SCIENTIST

Is Now Starting on a Six Weeks Lecture Tour of the United States.

New York.—Communication with the dead not only is possible but is a proven fact, in the opinion of Sir Oliver Lodge, noted British scientist, who is just beginning a six weeks' lecture tour of the United States.

Sir Oliver approves of the use of the ouija board, but cautions against its use by people who are not mentally competent to control their own emotions. Love, he declares, is the strongest medium by which communication with the dead is possible.

In an interview granted upon his arrival in New York Sir Oliver said:

"I know that psychical research has brought great comfort to many parents who have been bereaved by the war. I have received many letters from such parents and have endeavored to assist any person to communicate with the departed, if they appeared in the proper frame of mental balance.

"I am not a spiritualist in the generally accepted sense in that I regard any psychical investigations as having anything to do with religious questions. I have dealt with psychical phenomena as I would deal with any other natural phenomena, solely from the viewpoint of a scientist.

"As a scientist I believe that the strongest force that can be employed in communion with the dead is love. This is specially true in locating men who have died in the war. They cannot be summoned, but mediums have given them an opportunity to communicate and have sent messages through them.

"I have never acted as a medium. I have not the power. I personally have never known a false medium, although I have been told that there are some frauds. It would not be surprising if there were some fraudulent mediums, since the same thing exists among other classes, such as merchants.

"I believe all who take up the work of mediums have some power. Perhaps after they have lost that power they attempt to continue to exercise it. I know no medium in the United States. In this connection, I have always referred American inquirers to Professor John Hyslop, president of the American Society of Psychical Research.

"I approve the use of the ouija board, but think its use is inadvisable by persons who are weak-minded and not masters of their emotions. That some persons may have become insane or morally irresponsible following its use is no reason for general condemnation of the instrument.

"The link with which to communicate with the dead is affection. Love is the strongest force that will cause the dead to answer. Sometimes a pet name will bring him. I have known the call, 'Hello, Herb!" to bring results.

"Through the properties of the other I have formed a hypothesis as to the manner and nature of the survival of man. The material body is left behind at death. The ethereal body persists.

"The next world is a phrase. It may not be a different world from this. We encounter another aspect of the one world, an aspect that does not make any appeal to our present senses and hence an aspect which we may thoughtlessly imagine to be non-existent.

"But another message of mine is that our senses are no criterion of existence. They were evolved for very earthly reasons, not for the purposes of philosophy. If we refuse to go beyond the direct evidence of our senses we shall narrow our outlook on the universe to shapeless and almost imbecile extent.

"We must enlarge our minds to take in facts of all kinds. All our philosophy must be based upon fact scrupulously examined and recorded, no fact to be refused admittance because of apparent unlikelihood or impossibility.

"I have no sympathy with the denial of the material universe, although I admit that the spiritual universe is so much more important that a little over emphasis on that side may be pardoned. I want people to accept the totality of things, and not to neglect one side in order to emphasize the other. Let us live sanely and see it whole."

Sir Oliver predicted that atomic energy, which he will discuss at length, will be the principal source of power in future ages and will transform the world.

FIVE WAYS TO REDUCE HIGH COST OF LIVING.

Attorney General Palmer in his fight to lower the high cost of living has suggested five "conservations" as follows:

First. Organization of fair-price committees in every city and county, backed by mayors and prosecuting attorneys, with the committees supporting United States district attorneys.

Second. Organization of women to buy nothing but actual necessities until prices come down.

Third. Holding of "conservation" and economy meetings in every community under the auspices of civic bodies.

Fourth. Influence of mayors and prosecutors to be brought to bear on the warring elements to prevent factional disturbances in industrial peace of at least six months' duration.

Fifth. Remobilization of the four-minute men to deliver "work and save" address in theatres each night.

His Pass-Word.

It happened at a perfectly lovely party the other night when a club composed of women was initiating the men as sort of club cousins, you know. The initiators were camouflaged in sheets and pillow cases. This was really a little unfair to the men for there isn't much distinguishing personality in a sheet. One young man had been thru the first degree and ready for the next He had forgotten the pass word. He looked at the sheet silhouette, who was his instructor for the second degree. All visible was the end of a nose which looked exactly like that of a good old pal of his. So the young man just whimpered "Damm-it" His fall from grace was absolute. It wasn't the young lady expected and the young man don't know whether to apologize or forget it.

FRANK H. FARRIS FILES HIS CANDIDACY FOR GOVERNOR

Rolla, Mo., Lawyer First One in the Race. Has Been in Legislature Several Years.

Frank H. Farris, of Rolla, after filing as a candidate for Governor subject to the Democratic primary, made the following statement relative to his platform:

"Yes, I have filed my declaration as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor. To use a familiar expression, 'the die is cast, and Caesar has crossed the Rubicon,' so that I am now a full fledged candidate. I did not do so as a result of over persuasion of friends, for I have consulted but few. Neither was I laboring under the fond delusion that I would not have strenuous opposition, because I never have won anything worth the having, except by a spirited contest. I did so with out mental reservation or secret evasion. I have not particular ambition to gratify, nor any secret or hidden policies to pursue.

"I am inspired first, as a native Missourian to seek this nomination, because of the great honor I hope to secure by election as Governor of Missouri. Second, because I recognize that in the next few coming years, matters of greatest importance must be considered and determined, and that it will require men who are not afraid to do so; men who will seek advice and take counsel from all quarters, and then act from a conscientious judgment, and who will not be swayed by praise, nor deterred by criticism. And if I may be pardoned for the statement, I feel that I possess these qualities in some degree at least."
